

The new psychosomatic clinic is a former manor estate enclosed by a wall at Fliederweg in Erftstadt, Germany, which was converted and extended by Angela Deuber Architects beginning in 2020. Nestled in a landscape of high ecological diversity, the psychosomatic clinic near Cologne is a sanctuary island for healing and regeneration. Architecture and plant design are closely interwoven, forming a calm, coherent body of work.

CONTINUING THE LIFE OF A WALLED GARDEN THE ISLANDS